

Project #2—What’s the Latest News?

Introduction

Health professionals have been learning more about Alzheimer’s in recent years. What is the current information about the disease and treatments for it?

Task

Your task is to make a poster about current information and treatments for Alzheimer’s.

Skills

Critical thinking, research, working in groups, graphic design, making presentations

Process

1. Review the case study.
2. Find out if anyone in the group has experience with people who have Alzheimer’s? Share knowledge with the group.
3. Have each student get information about a different aspect. Decide with your group which aspect each member will research:
 - a. cause of the disease
 - b. symptoms of the disease
 - c. treatments
 - d. what health professionals think they may know in the near future
 - e. research information.Go to the Project Care website
\(<http://projectcare.worlded.org/alzheimers/information.html#project2>\). You will find helpful information that you can use in your project.
4. Share information with your group.
5. Make a poster. Each student makes a section of the poster explaining the aspect of Alzheimer’s she or he researched.
6. Give your work to the teacher to check so that you can revise it if necessary.
7. Present your poster to the class.
